GRIFFIN HALSTEAD MUST FACE JURY

Two Indictments Returned Against Stock Broker.

The grand jury of the District yesterday returned two indictments against Griffin Halstead, who formerly conducted a stock brokerage establishment in the Colorado Building. He is charged with embezzlement, larceny, and obtaining securities under false pretenses.

Chief Justice Claiborne fixed his bond at $10,000. Halstead was arrested last January and held for the grand jury. Witnesses who appeared before that body alleged that Halstead approximately appropriated $35,000 worth of their securities to his own use while acting as their agent.

Another indictment was that against Peter G. Thomson, president of the Champion Coated Paper Company, of Hamilton, Ohio, it being alleged that he bribed Maj. W. P. Zantinger, an employee of the Post-office Department, in connection with the inspection of postal card paper furnished by the company to the government.

Fred Vogt was indicted on a charge of setting up and maintaining gambling devices to bet on horse races.

The other indictments were: Frank Washington, statutory offense; John H. Redmond, nonsupport, and Samuel Daniels, robbery.

ELKS TO OPEN SEASON.

"Ladies' Night" Will Mark Beginning of Winter Socials.

Washington Lodge, No. 15, B. P. O. Elks, will give a social for women this evening at the Elks' Club in H street northwest. It will mark the opening of the fall season in Elksdom, and an interesting entertainment is promised. It is open to the wives and sweethearts of Elks in Washington.

James A. Halderon is the chairman of the committee of arrangements for the social, which will open at 8 o'clock. At 10 o'clock an elaborate luncheon will be served. Dancing will follow.

The programme includes vocal and instrumental numbers and vaudeville specialties. Among the participants will be Messrs. Wahl, Wells, J. J. Gorman, Charles Myers, George Skilton, Roland Roderick, James A. Halderon, and others.

TACKLE THE ESTIMATES.

Commissioner Johnston Returns and Board Gets Busy.

With the arrival of Commissioner Johnston yesterday the Board of Commissioners immediately took up the consideration of their annual estimates which, according to law, must be in the hands of the Secretary of the Treasury by October 15.

For the next two weeks they will deny themselves to everybody and buckle down to work, for they say the estimates need close consideration.

When this work is over, a number of important questions will be taken up. Commissioner Rudolph announces that he will revive the question of muzzling dogs for a period of one year, which was adopted August 11, on the recommendation of the health officer. The Commissioner is not in sympathy with the order.

The restoration of suburban lights and regulated lights on all vehicles will be considered as soon as possible, for, on these questions there seems to be, he said, considerable protest.

Dr. Gallagher Not Missing.

Dr. Michael F. Gallagher, 512 A street southeast, denies emphatically that he has been missing from home, as was reported at police headquarters Sunday night. The doctor was said to have been missing since September 27, but at any time, he said, he could have been found at his home.

A. E. BEALL DEAD IN GEORGETOWN

Victim of Fall in February in Dupont Circle.

MEMBER OF OLDEST FAMILY

Father Was George Beall, Who Owned Site of Old Town, Father of Dr. Herbert Beall, the Druggist, and Husband of Mrs. Beall, Secretary Columbia Historical Society.

Georgetown lost a native and a remarkable character in the death yesterday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock of Alexander E. Beall, eighty-four years old, at his home, 1642 Wisconsin avenue, which came as a result of a fall last February on the ice in Dupont Circle.

He was a descendant of George Beall, who owned the ground upon which the town of Georgetown was plotted, the husband of the Columbia Historical Club's secretary, business manager until a few years ago of Edward Godey's timekeeping industry, and for many years was engaged in the grocery business with his brother, George E. Beall, in Georgetown.

Father of the Druggist. Dr. Herbert Beall, the druggist, of Connecticut avenue and Q street, was a son of Mr. Beall by his first wife, who was formerly Miss Edna Evans, and of this union also survive Mrs. Russell Brace, of Nampa, Idaho, and Clinton Beall, of Cordova, Md. Mr. Beall's second wife was Mrs. Willie Stevens, of Philadelphia, who also survives him.

While he suffered considerably from his injuries, yet Mr. Beall maintained his usual jovial demeanor until the last, and was in possession of every faculty up to the time of his death.

Was Notably Handsome.

About Georgetown Mr. Beall was notable as a handsome man, having in later years white hair and beard that gave him a patriarchal appearance, and clear brown eyes. In spite of a slight stoop, which was not unbecoming to a man of his years, he had a remarkable physique. He had no bad habits, his friends declare, to which his long life is partly attributed. He was a churchman, a leader in public movements for uplift and betterment of conditions.

Arrangements for the funeral will be made to-day, on receipt of messages from relatives out of town. The burial probably will be held Friday, and Mrs. Beall, of Idaho, is expected to come here for the services, as well as Mr. Clinton Beall, of Cordova.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY.

President of Georgia Avenue Club Puts Up $600.

William Hamner, president of the Royal Athletic Club, of 201 Georgia avenue, which was raided early Sunday morning, and who was charged with keeping a gambling place and poolroom without a license, yesterday, on a plea of not guilty, demanded a trial by jury. He appeared before Judge Adams in Police Court and was released on a $300 bond on each charge.

Charles H. Whitmore, who was arrested with about thirty others at the Printers and Decorators' Hall, Seventh and D streets, also yesterday morning forfeited $25 collateral. The place was raided and the men found engaged in poker games.

Both houses had been under the surveillance several weeks.

WIFE DENIES ABANDONMENT.

Mrs. Mary O'Brien Does Not Know Co-respondent Named.

Mrs. Mary O'Brien, in answer to a suit of divorce filed against her by her husband, Maurice O'Brien, yesterday declared that she did not know the man named as co-respondent in the suit, and denied absolutely abandoning her husband.

She is represented by John H. Adriaens. She declared that her husband looked her out of her home, tried to starve her by not giving her money, and would not provide for her wants.

NEW LABORATORY AT BUSINESS HIGH

Shows Commercial and Industrial Status of Cities.

Allan Davis, principal of the Business High School, announced yesterday that the exhibit being planned by the new commercial product laboratory at the school, which will show the commercial and industrial status of the large cities of the country compared with Washington, is being pushed and will be ready for the public shortly.

Dr. Colyer Meriwether, head of the department of commercial history at Business, has already collected a large part of the data necessary for the exhibition, special attention having been given to maps and exhibits which demonstrate the future of Washington as a commercial center.

The first view of the exhibition will be given to members of the Washington Board of Trade and the Chamber of Commerce, which are taking a deep interest in the efforts of the school.

The new product laboratory at the high school, for which $18,000 was appropriated by Congress, opened yesterday.

Four hours a week will be devoted to each study, and will include practical laboratory work.

Appeals to the business men of Washington will be made to aid in equipping the new laboratory. In time it is hoped that an exhibit of every manufactured article used will be obtained.

WILL BE LAID TO REST.

Funeral Services To-morrow for L. M. Bergman.

Funeral services for Lambert M. Bergman, for seventy years a resident of Washington, who died Sunday, will be held to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the family residence, 1240 Tenth street northwest. Rev. J. J. Muir, pastor of the Temple Baptist Church, will officiate. Interment being in Glenwood cemetery.

Mr. Bergman was born in Philadelphia in 1812, and after coming here was well known in the shoe business. He was also identified with charity work in the Temple Baptist Church.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Charles N. Richards and Mrs. W. H. Sholes, and one son, Lambert F. Bergman.

AERO SHOW OPENS AT UNION STATION

Exhibition Under Scientific Club Auspices Makes Hit.

One of the best exhibitions of aeroplanes and aeroplane engines ever shown in this city opened yesterday at Union Station, in the Y. M. C. A. rooms. It is under the auspices of the Washington Aero Scientific Club.

Rex Smith, of this city, has on exhibition a full-sized man-carrying biplane, his first machine. He has used it for experimental work. His latest machine is now at College Park awaiting the amateur aviation meet, which is scheduled to open there October 10 to 20.

Willis Rockwell and Ernest Reichenbach have a model monoplane on exhibition. It has been entered in the contest for models. Another interesting model is an electric monoplane belonging to Everett H. Beech, and two from the Lincoln Novelty Works, of New York.

An unusual number of persons attended and expressed surprise at the general excellence of the show. Engines of all sorts were on exhibition, and a large assortment of propellers from the American Propeller Company, of this city, and the Roqua-Gibson Propeller Company, of New York.

The exhibition takes up three rooms in the Y. M. C. A. quarters, and is far superior to the one given by the club last year.

HOWARD TUTOR MAY STAY.

H. B. Bradford Intimates He'll Drop Anti-Vaccination.

The report that H. B. Bradford, instructor in Howard University, had been asked to resign because of his activity in the anti-vaccination crusade now being carried on in the city, was flatly denied yesterday by Dr. Wilbur F. Thirkield, president of the school.

President Thirkield said that no action had been taken by the university nor had any been contemplated. But he said he hoped Mr. Bradford's activity would not be such as to result in getting the university mixed up in the controversy.

Mr. Bradford said he would do nothing to injure or involve the university in any way. He intimated that before he would do such a thing he would withdraw from the fight.
